About This Guide

This guide began as an abbreviated directory to assist our guests in learning more about the Inn and the sights and sounds of this truly wonderful area. However, we quickly realized that our selections warranted more information and the outcome is a directory that provides our guests with some insight into our personal favorites, as well as providing an overview for food, shopping and activities.

With much appreciation to both Jackie Falla and Lisa Benson for their efforts in the creation of this directory. Jackie, a Cape Cod native, whose marvelous artwork and writing talents provide a perceptive look and feel, and to Lisa, a Wellfleet resident since 1989, whose graphic design talents brought our collective efforts together.

In this edition we decided to add Quick Response Codes (QR) for all businesses listed that have either a web site or a Facebook page. For those of you who are not familiar with QR Codes, with a Smart Phone and a Scan App you can be directed to a business' web page in a few seconds. If you do not have a Scan App downloaded to your Smart Phone, we suggest ScanLife, a free app. Just go to the App Store, search for ScanLife and download. Then you can scan any of the QR Codes in this book and see the details on the business.

Enjoy!

History of the Ship's Knees Inn

Historically, this early 19th century home was known as “The Freeman Snow House” named for its owner, the youngest son of Captain Edmund and Mary Eldridge Snow. Born in 1838, Freeman worked as a surfman at the Orleans Life Saving Station during the earlier part of his life and later as a farmer, taking in boarders during the summer months as was the custom of the time. Snow wed a woman named Sarah F. Taylor. When he passed away the property was willed to his heirs who sold it in 1911 to Josiah F. Prescott. The house then had six other owners prior to the property being purchased in 1970 by Peter's father William Butcher from Clarence Doughty, who at the time was running the property as The Ship's Knees Inn Rooming House.

William Butcher, Peter's father, was responsible for the expansion and conversion of the main house and barn (now the North Wing) from boarding house with men's and woman's "houses" to an inn serving weekend and summer vacationers. William depended on site innkeepers to manage the property and when he passed away in 1984, he left the inn to his 2 children, Peter and Donna. Donna managed the inn with the assistance of on-site innkeepers until 2004 when talk of selling the property prompted Peter and Denise to make a life changing decision to leave the life they knew in Connecticut, purchase the inn from his sister and live in and operate it together.

Architecturally the house is a one and one-half story Cape Cod style, wood shingle and clapboard building that sits within the context of a residential neighborhood. The building's portions and massing are in keeping with the scale of the homes on the abutting properties.

The conversion of an old barn and associated addition for transition from boarding house to inn took place in the early 1970s. Its simple detailing is typical of houses of that era built in Orleans and other parts of the Cape.

The inn was comprised of 20 rooms as recently as 2003 with most sharing bathrooms. Today, the inn consists of 16 rooms (14 with private baths), a 1 or 2 bedroom apartment and a large suite. Captain, 1st Mate and Crew

The Ship's Knees Inn was purchased by Peter Butcher's father in 1970 as an investment opportunity. The owner of a distribution company in Hartford, Connecticut and an antique store in Orleans, known to those that visited its quiet seaside location as The Butcher Block, William saw in the Inn both a chance to make some money and to provide his new wife with an outlet to apply her creative talents. Run as a boarding house until 1970 when portions of the main house and barn were renovated and converted for use as a full service Inn, the story of the Ship's Knees Inn was about to begin.

In the summer of 1972 a young Denise arrived in Orleans to nurse a broken heart and found her self boarding at the Inn and working as a clerk in William's antique store. Peter was engaged in learning the ropes in the family business – Eckart & Finard, Inc. A young man himself, he took every opportunity to steal away with his friends and escape to the Cape. Peter and Denise met there that summer and began dating the following year. Cape Cod's rugged beauty, with its sweeping landscapes, rolling dunes, sunsets that appear painted across the sky in wild abandon, and blue green water serve as the perfect backdrop for... Love. And fall they did. Perhaps because of the Cape's hypnotic effect or the blissful happiness they found in one another's company, Orleans, the beach and the National Seashore had a magnetic pull that brought them back year after year.

Today, Peter and Denise have 4 beautiful children and 2 grandchildren. Jared, the eldest, is employed as a Sales Rep at Mercer Health Benefits and lives in Princeton, NJ with his daughter Addison and son Tyler. Middle son Curt lives in Boston and is employed as the General Manager of the Porter Square Hotel. Youngest son Brad lives in Avon, CT and is employed at Electrical Wholesalers, Inc. Youngest of the four, daughter Brie, lives in Somerville and is employed as a teacher at Wellesley College at the Wellesley Community Children's Center

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the origin of the Inn's name?

The name comes from a man made bracket, which either naturally possesses an angular shape or is fashioned from a block of wood to a bracket shape. Ship's Knees were used in the construction of wooden vessels to fasten and strengthen the intersections of the timbers and to connect deck beams to the frames of wooden ships. Some of the Inn's rooms feature genuine ship's knees.

Where is Nauset Beach and what makes it so special?

Nauset Beach is just a short 5 minute walk down beach road from the Inn. Nauset Beach has captured the hearts and imaginations of generations. Sitting at the foot of the Cape Cod National Seashore, the pristine water of the Atlantic Ocean offers so much to so many. A surfers paradise, Nauset is one of the few Cape Cod destinations that offers great waves on a regular basis. Though typically a bit colder than the Sound or the Bay, beachgoers are generally undeterred by the cooler temperatures and the water is teeming with children squealing in delight, teenagers engaged in a host of water sports and adults indulging in a reprieve from the warm summer sun.

Whether you are swimming, surfing or walking, Nauset Beach offers breathtaking views any time of the year.

Why does Route 28 go South while the sign says North?

Oh, don't worry about it... you're on vacation!

Why do people say they are going "down to Provincetown"?

Cape Cod is shaped roughly like the arm of someone flexing a bicep. It is divided into four regions from west to east or from the "shoulder" to the "hand": the Upper Cape, the Mid Cape, the Lower Cape and the Outer Cape. Each region is made up of towns and most towns include several villages. Provincetown is "down the arm". We also say "down to Boston". Go figure...

Recently expanded this French Infusion inspired restaurant features much of what makes the Cape great “fresh seafood”. Lunchtime is as good as dinner and features noteworthy salads including one of our personal favorites, gorgonzola walnut and sun-dried cranberry salad, and the warm spinach and chicken salad – unbelievably good. When the sun goes down try sesame encrusted salmon and please leave room for the fallen chocolate soufflé with raspberry coulee. One final word on food if you are a pasta lover and you’ve entered the great race of activity that the Cape provides, fuel up with Beacon Room Specialty pasta dish, prosciutto, peas tossed with linguini in a gorgonzola cream sauce. This is no time to count calories, hop in your car and head over to the Sound side for a truly blissful delight ... a Meltaway. This mouthwatering pastry is worth every last calorie, and though I don’t have a count I can assure it is packed full. But some things are just worth the long line, and the extra calorie for the lasting memory of something great. You may just find you expend a considerable amount of energy dreaming and scheming about how and when you’ll have your next. Oh, and Bonatt’s also serves a full breakfast to go with your Meltaway.

Dinner

Serving creative Italian fare and pizza, La Bella Vita has received rave reviews since opening in 2020.

One diner wrote on Trip Advisor about dining during the pandemic: "It is more and more difficult to find restaurants where we feel comfortable. La Bel Vita is inviting from the outside and has a large plastic-lined porch and industrial strength heaters. I went with two friends, after reviewing both comments and restaurant information. What a terrific experience. Jill, our wait person was warm and professional. Service was quick and food choices a problem, only in that we couldn't decide... too many interesting ones. It took a glass of wine to make up our minds. I had some of my favorite fettuccini Alfredo in a very long time... not even a need to add more Parmesan cheese, and the portion-size good. One friend had Cioppino Arrabiata (multiple types seafood in a rich broth with toasted Ciabatta) which she said she would definitely have again... plenty of seafood and a rich and flavorful sauce. My friend loved the pizza. We all tasted each meal, and decided we will visit it regularly in the future! Even inside was set up well enough to possibly take a chance. The atmosphere is warm and cozy and all of the help especially friendly. A real find."

That review covers just about everything. We hope you will give it a try!

Cobie's Cape Cod Clam Shack and Restaurant

3260 Main Street

Route 6A, Brewster, MA 02631

☎: (508) 896-7021 ~ www.cobies.com

A roadside stand, doesn't every vacation destination that thrives on tourism have one. We think this is a particularly good one. Foot long hotdogs, tuna salad rolls in hotdog buns (with red-pepper relish if you so desire – we do), fried whole bellied clams, scallops, shrimp and fish, lobster salad rolls, burgers, fries and onion rings. This little stand even has a healthier side menu – and it's good. Great condiments that the yellow jackets seem to love us much as we do, particularly in August. Plenty of outdoor seating is available. Are you thinking – what about the ice cream? They've got that too. More to follow. As one of the best things ever invented – those French are crafty, Ice cream is deserving of its own separate category.

Mahoney's new American cuisine features fresh local catches in an environment somewhere between up-scale and local haunt. The bar, open from 4pm – close is a spectacular feature, in its great expanse and gleaming mahogany. I am reminded of the famous boat designer L. Francis Herreshoff who among his many talents waxed philosophical about life, boating, and mahogany. He said, "To most people, particularly the ladies, there are two kinds of wood, one is stained red and called mahogany, the other is not stained red and is not called mahogany". Wise old charmer. We assure you the bar at Mahoney's is indeed mahogany and the food is delicious too.

Lunch and Dinner

Every town has one... a neighborhood gathering place where friends meet for a drink, some conversation and conviviality, where upon entry you're greeted with a smile and a thanks for coming, and where, when you get hungry, a table is waiting and the food is solid, as is the service. In Orleans, this is that place – The Yardarm. Since 1972, it's been the spot on Outer Cape Cod where friends meet and friends are made. Local color abounds, from fishermen to physicians, tradesmen to tourists, all rubbing elbows at the bar and extending conversation from table to table while the Red Sox or the Patriots appear on our many TVs. The Yardarm offers an extensive menu of local seafoods, chowders and soups, steaks and burgers. Every day the Specials Board goes up with even more offerings to tempt you with appetizers and finger foods, the day's fresh catch right off the boat, the burger of the day, the lunch specials and much more.

Ice Cream

While the average American consumes a scant 23.2 quarts of ice cream annually we can assure you, those that visit the Cape have a count slightly higher. We live for ice cream and have included some of our favorite spots. Close your eyes, savor the creamy sweetness, seek refuge from the heat in its cold comfort. Ah, what a heavenly creation.

Shopping

Shopping

It happens to us all we've planned for weeks, perhaps even months. We've arranged our outfits, shopped for just the right clothes and accessories, had the tennis racket restrung, purchased every conceivable SPF product on the market, and packed the car so that not one square inch is underutilized. So how is it possible you've forgotten your favorite sun-dress, a beach bag to lug it all down to the water, your husband's only blazer, or all of the above. In our excitement sometimes things just get left behind, and if they don't feel free to use any of the aforementioned items as an excuse to visit our lovely shops. You are sure to find a remembrance of your trip fitting of your personal style and interests.

Walk into Honey Candle Store and the earthy fragrance of beeswax surrounds you like a warm blanket on a chilly night. Candles of every shape and size give the place a festive look, no matter what time of year it is. In the workshop behind the candle space, Agostino Di Bari plies his craft with the skill and enthusiasm of an old world candlemaker. He designs and builds the molds into which the hot beeswax is poured to create various shapes, and carefully removes the hardened wax after it cools. He also makes tapers by delicately dipping them into metal pails of wax until the desired thickness is achieved. All around the work space formed tapers hang to dry, emitting a lovely fragrance of beeswax. This is the place to buy the perfect hostess gift or to replenish your candle supply.

☎: (508) 348-1926

Don't let the name fool you, though this store's impressive collection of shoes will make you swoon it's so much more than the name implies. Ceci Hadawar brings sass, panache and her own personal style to her selections. Handbags for evening, everyday and just for fun are priced so that you need not carry just one. Clothing is flirty, skirts are flouncy and tops have flare. Color abounds. Coco Channel would have a field day with Ceci's accessories – whoever said "less is more" couldn't have been talking about fashion. (Actually he wasn't, he was referring to architecture, but if I know Mies van der Rohe I suspect his sentiment was all encompassing). That's neither here nor there, whether you slip into a skirt that will induce inexplicable happiness or an exquisitely elegant pair of suede pumps this store is a perfect "fit".

Famous for the Cape Cod Screwball bracelet, if you've just got to have it, this is the only place to get an authentic one. Limited hours won't make leaving our little sand bar with your hot hands full of bracelets, for every Theodora, Deidre and Henrietta that ever celebrated a birthday, anniversary, baby birth or holiday in your life. We regret to inform you that if they want, or need, a necklace they will be required to visit Eden in person. Neck sizes vary - slope, angle, girth, so greatly it's impossible for them to custom fit without the neck, and frankly exhausting to think how much these folks know about necks. Pop in Wednesday through Saturday, May through September.

The Christmas Tree Shops

Route 6A @ Route 28, Orleans, MA

☎: (508) 255-8494 ~ www.christmastreeshops.com

I've been told that the clientele that visits the Ship's Knees Inn wouldn't be interested in shopping at the Christmas Tree Shops. Hogwash! We've stayed at the finest five-star hotels, the quaintest inns and a few ramshackle joints in between. Rich, poor, extravagant or frugal this store has something for everyone. It will either become your guilty pleasure or a boastful acclamation. If you like entertaining there is no end to the inexpensive party props required to set a scene, and why pay more, when you can pay less? From household cleaners, to food, furnishings, seasonal items and more, it amazes me still that the same items you can purchase elsewhere you can get here at a fraction of the price. I could get into an explanation of bulk buying and sourcing from China but that would bore you and the Christmas Tree Shop's are most definitely not boring.

Get there early or get there late, but don't get there in the middle unless you spent another lifetime as a sardine and harbor fond memories for the experience.

Pump House Surf Shop

If you were a Nike Trend Tracker you wouldn't need to circle the globe to find out what the hipster teenage set was donning to make a fashion statement, the Pump House serves up the crib notes in Surf Betty Style. Saying it's cool robs it of some of its edge, but the gear including high performance surf boards like Bic, Town & Country, Local Motion, Gordon & Smith, and Nezzzy give it right back. Rent or own, lessons offered at $60. an hour, board, suit and sea included. You choose the flavor, brands include; Billabong, Old Guy's Rule, OP, O'Neil and Roxy, but don't cross represent, it's just disrespectful. Surf safe and wear protection – we recommend SPF 30.

Some vacations offer little time to sit back, relax and take in the scenery while others move at a pace that allows you to relax, revive and recharge your batteries. These are just the type of escapes that require a good book or two. Activities

Activities

If there is one thing we've learned as hosts, activity is an action word that is subject to substantial relativity. For one vacationer all the activity they are willing to commit to consists of waking, eating, shimmying into a swim suit and taking a leisurely stroll to the beach where they will away the day reading and tanning (please note both are action words). For others it involves a frenzied whirlwind of water sports, island hopping, Red Cedar Swamp tours, plays, baseball games, A - Z of the guidebook, and/or death or the end of the vacation, whichever comes first. Ok, so we've learned more than one thing since we undertook this endeavor, the second one of import to this discussion is that we aim to help you tailor an experience that includes as much or as little activity as you desire. Here are our top 10 picks - not in order - do them all in a single day or one every time you come for a visit. Ask for a copy of our "Cape Cod Activities List" for a complete list of suggested things to do while you're visiting.

Provincetown

Commercial and Bradford Streets

Provincetown, MA 02657

www.ptownchamber.com

www.provincetowntourismoffice.org

Provincetown welcomes diversity in age and sexuality, but will have none of it when it comes to retail and restaurants - there is nary a strip mall or chain restaurant in town. As the highway narrows from two lanes to one and you pass from Orleans into Eastham there is a shift in climate. Whole expanses appear untouched by time. Provincetown possesses the rare privilege, stake, and claim to the Pilgrims first landfall in 1620. As such it is home to the recently renovated and expanded Pilgrim Monument and Provincetown Museum which pays homage to this momentous event. The history of this seafaring town, it's natural beauty, artist community, and flamboyant entertainers make this relatively small expanse at the tip of the Cape a wonderful adventure with a surprise around every corner. Park your car and walk. The two main streets that run parallel to one another, Commercial and Bradford are ruled by pedestrians. Commercial is flanked with restaurants, galleries, inns and shops. While Bradford's buildings are primarily restored sea captains homes. Two Provincetown fixtures are The Crown & Anchor the premier entertainment venue in town with everything from a nightclub to cabaret and Ciro & Sal's, an Italian Restaurant where Chianti is poured from the bottle and then hung from the ceiling, how kitsch – I mean romantic. Founded by two local artists intent on eating while they were waiting to be recognized it became known as an artists haunt. If you are a people watcher, Provincetown will demand your rapt attention.

The Captain Penniman House at Fort Hill

11 Fort Hill Road

Eastham, MA 02642

Cape Cod National Seashore: www.nps.gov

This French Second Empire Style home whose architect remains unknown was built for Whaling Captain, Penniman in 1868 and is sited on 12 acres just up the road from the scenic out-look, Fort Hill. Remarkably preserved, this beautiful home remains largely in tact and as originally built. It was the first in the area that had an indoor bathroom with tub and spoke to the families substantial wealth accrued in the Whaling industry. An enviable home even benchmarked against contemporary standards. The woodworking, architectural details, massing and proportions all contribute to its stately elegance. The entry is marked by the bones of a whale jaw and pay homage to Penniman's seafaring prowess.

Just a short walk down the road and up the hill you will find the 100 acre parcel known as Fort Hill. A breathtaking expanse of nearly untouched ocean front property offers sweeping views of Town Cove and the Atlantic beyond, walking trails through Nauset Marsh, and Red Maple Swamp make one feel as if they've been placed on a movie set, rolling hills of long grass dance in the gentle breeze, wild flowers with all their fragrant intoxication abound. Bird watchers will find the sublime beauty of the Great Blue Herons magical. Sunset, sunrise or mid-day this magnificent spot is simply enchanting.

Antiquing Along 6A

Route 6A

Yarmouth – Orleans, MA

How far you go is up to you. This stretch of the Cape along 6A referred to as the Bay side is known for an abundance of antique shops. They range in style, feel, and offerings covering a full spectrum from the tiniest trinkets, costing a dollar or two, to ancient furnishings. Remember your 10th grade European history. It plays a big role here in furniture – every King and Queen from Elizabeth to all those Louis' will be well represented. Not intent on giving European Royalty a bad rap – they certainly didn't think any more of themselves than the Pharos or the Czars and have ample home design pieces for posterity to prove it, they just aren't as heavily showcased on 6A. Dig in and get dirty on your treasure hunt or browse those stores that employ a full time duster. The history when you think about it....incredible.

Cape Cod League - Orleans Firebirds

84 Route 28

Orleans, MA

☎: (508) 255-0793 ~ www.orleansfirebirds.com

Summer without baseball is like the movies without popcorn. Don't tell me it isn't woven into the fabric of your sole – it's just un-American. The Cape Cod League is the oldest amateur baseball league in the nation with a history that spans more than 125 years. A stomping ground for literally thousands of professional players from its inception, the League has bragging rights for such greats as Hall of Famer, Mickey Cochrane. 250 current major leaguers that kicked up the dirt on the Cape include: Jacoby Ellsbury, Kevin Youkilis, Mark Teixeira, Buster Posey, Evan Longoria, Tim Lincecum and Matt Harvey. Come sit, breathe in the sweet scent of freshly cut grass, appreciate day turning to dusk, and glimpse Major League hopefuls. You'll know you aren't at Fenway Park because there's no "green monster" and the price of admission is... FREE, that's right, you heard me.

Activities

Sunset at Rock Harbor

117 Rock Harbor Road
Orleans, MA 02653

An active commercial fishing and charter boat locale, this scenic outlook is great for people watching too. Despite the activity presented by boats arriving and departing, fisherman unloading their catch, giving the boats a wash-down or playing a hand of poker with a few friends and a cold beer after a long day on the water there is a serenity to this place. We recommend a visit to Young's Fish Market, tucked away near the rear of the pier for a made to order lobster roll. Grab a drink and some chips and relish the goodness of the lobster presented without the distractions of fancy spices or garnishes. The rock wall is a nice spot to perch and watch in amazement as the sky turns from blue to a rich palette of vivid hues. If you are bothered by a bug or two and prefer to avoid el fresco dining, stop in at Cap't Cass next door. Bring cash and a bottle of your favorite wine or beer, no credit cards are accepted, and don't bother phoning – they don't have one. Like Young's, Cap't Cass isn't fancy, but seafood is fresh, reasonably priced and it's fun.

Wellfleet Drive-In Theatre

Whether you can't imagine what your parents did in the old days before computers existed, or you're re-visiting this retro form of entertainment after a lapse in decades, the 100' x 44' screen set against a backdrop of stars you won't see in any city or suburban neighborhood, will impress you. Nauset Beach Sunrise

5 Beach Road

Orleans, MA

www.nausetbeach.org

I could use a lot of flowery language to explain this experience, but none of it would appropriately convey the feelings you will take away upon seeing the sun peak up on the horizon over the Atlantic Ocean. The early hour, fumbling around a darkened room for shorts, sweat shirt and sandals, the walk that seemed so short yesterday, but now is endless, sand in your shoes, the dew that blankets everything, and then the moment of awe. Probably put best by JFK when he said, "We're not trying to put a man on the moon because it's easy, we're trying to put a man on the moon because it's hard". The hard is what makes it good. Getting there is hard, but the memory is heightened by the effort.

Activities

White Cedar Swamp Walk

Off Route 6 – Access via Marconi Site Parking Lot
South Wellfleet
Cape Cod National Seashore
Wellfleet, MA ~ www.npca.org

Part of the National Seashore this trail is well structured with its boardwalk and signage alerting you to strange and beautiful vegetation. Named for the White Cedar trees that densely dot the landscape arranged like pick-up-sticks rather than in straight even lines, standing tall and reaching up to the sky. This has the effect of leaving portions of the trail in complete darkness, adding to its mystery. Accessed through the Marconi Site Area, named for the Italian inventor famous for completing the first wireless communication between the U.S. and England in 1903, the area was selected for the steepness of the site and barren nature and has maintained its state of natural beauty with sweeping views of Truro to the North and Eastham to the South. Though the trail is only about a half mile long, navigating the winding path and areas of soft sand slow ones pace, ensuring ample opportunity to take in the natural wonder.

Cape Cod Rail Trail

Biking on the Cape Cod Rail Trail
Dennis to Wellfleet ~ www.mass.gov/dcr
☎: (508) 896-3491 (Nickerson State Park)

The Cape Cod Rail Trail follows a former railroad right-of-way for 22 miles through the towns of Dennis, Harwich, Brewster, Orleans, Eastham and Wellfleet. If you look carefully as you ride along the trail, you can still see occasional relics of the Cape's rail days. Its paved surface, few hills, and well-marked automobile crossings make it ideal for cyclists. The trail has a wide unpaved shoulder on one side to accommodate horseback riding, walkers, and runners.

There are many opportunities to get off the trail and visit a beach. Food and water are also readily available and public restrooms can be found at Nickerson State Park, Salt Pond Visitors Center at Cape Cod National Seashore and the National Seashore Headquarters.

Maps of the Rail Trail are available in the Office.

Golf

You've got your golf bag with that one lucky club, a fresh sleeve of your favorite balls, and the memory of that one last perfect swing that shot straight down the fairway like cupid's arrow trained on an unsuspecting lover. Well it's like an aphrodisiac - that one shot out of 97 makes you fall in love with the game all over again. Hitting the links on the lower Cape can be challenging because sea breezes ensure that no two days on the course are alike. If you find yourself on the beach shrug it off, that's where folks are expected to be when they're on the Cape. There exists an affirmation that unraveling the complexities of the game has worth and that the true character of man can be determined by his conduct on the green. Wherever you stand, don't forget to bend at the knees. The Annual Golf Guide is available in the Office.

Dennis Pines

Off Route 134, East Dennis, MA 02641

☎: (508) 385-8347 ~ www.dennisgolf.com

This worthy 7,100 yard course may offer a little something for everyone but some of the old codgers that frequent it expect a high level of play and professionalism from those that visit. So enjoy all 18 holes by foot or cart and practice your golf decorum by keeping a respectable pace. Spend a little time practicing on the putting green. Remember a long drive will impress them, but a great putt will silence them. This course is open year round and is one of the more popular. In season, book your reservations a minimum of four days in advance.

The Captain's Golf Course

☎: (508) 896-5100 ~ www.captainsgolfcourse.com

In true nautical form this fine golf course has Port and Starboard 72 par courses. That's right two courses. The Port Course will challenge you in more ways than one - prepare for a little local history in the form of holes named after Brewster Sea Captains. A driving range, lessons and clinics taught by PGA certified professionals make this public course one of the most favorably rated. If you're brave enough to admit you have a problem and further consent to getting help - that is coaching... heed the words of the late renowned golf pro Harvey Penick on making adjustments in moderation. "When I ask you to take an aspirin, please don't take the whole bottle."

Golf

Ocean Edge Golf Club

Route 6A, Brewster, MA 02631

☎: (508) 896-5100 ~ www.oceanedge.com

Ocean Edge is the site of the former Nickerson Mansion. A fitting representation of Gothic Renaissance Revival Architecture perched atop a perfectly manicured expanse of rolling green that will cast you back in time to that gilded age of grandeur and carefree opulence that was a hallmark of that champagne cork popping time – if only in your minds eye. But I digress – golf does indeed take place on this most auspicious site. Believe it or not some guests come just for the golf and for their well publicized golf school. The championship caliber course includes 18 holes and is 72 par. The course is spikeless so leave your studs at home. You'll figure out how to leave your mark some other way.

Highland Links Golf Course

10 Highland Light Road

North Truro MA 02652

☎: (508) 487-9201 www.trurolinks.com

Heralded as "America's Oldest Links Course", and perhaps Cape Cod's most scenic, the Highland Links in North Truro is one of America's golf treasures, perched high along wind swept bluffs overlooking the Atlantic next to the vintage Cape Cod Light. Founded in 1892, Highland recently celebrated a hundred years of golf. More than significant than its age is Highland's heritage; circumstances keep it a genuine links, as close to the Scottish tradition found anywhere in the eastern United States, with deep natural rough, Scotch broom, heath, non irrigated open fairways, and spectacular ocean views. 9 Holes/18 with two separate tee times.

Seasonal Happenings

Seasonal Happenings

Because Cape Cod isn't just for summer anymore there's plenty to do year round. The last several decades have shown a substantial increase in the number of families that have purchased a second home in one of the Cape's towns. This increase coupled with their desire to get the most out of their property and the experience has impacted year round activity. No longer does the Cape open for business just Memorial Day through Labor Day. First class restaurants, shops and special, seasonal activities and festivals abound. Some fall, winter, and spring events that will keep you engaged until summer rolls around once more.

April

Wood's Hole Model Boat Show

Wood's Hole Museum

579 Wood's Hole Road, Falmouth, MA

☎: (508) 548-7270 ~ www.woodshole.org

There's nothing like Paris in the Springtime. A stroll down the Rue de Rivoli, a glance in the direction of a French woman that carries her seemingly effortless style with silent elegance, the Louvre in all of its overwhelming grandeur, and the Luxembourg Gardens with all the magnificence that comes with the purposeful placement of every flower, fern and bush, accented by miniature ships dancing in the fountain. Hold it...wrong place. Woodshole possesses its own allure and need not pine away for the fountains of Luxembourg G., vintage yachts from the 30's dot the surface of Eel Pond where first place in this motorized Regatta is awarded to the Captain with the best reflexes and of course the fastest boat. Indoors you can enjoy large scale boat models. The event takes place late in April.

April

Annual Daffodil Festival

Nantucket Island

www.daffodilfestival.com

The last weekend of April, the Nantucket Island Chamber of Commerce holds their annual Daffodil Festival - a weekend of events to celebrate springtime awakening on Nantucket Island. The first occasion, a very simple affair in the 1970s, included an antique car parade in which islanders showed off their classic cars, followed by a community tailgate picnic in 'Sconset.

Now, decades later, the Daffodil Festival on Nantucket includes art shows, tours, parades (including the antique car parade and tailgate picnic), exhibitions, contests, lectures, and, of course, the annual Nantucket Daffodil Flower Show. There are activities for all ages, and faithful festival-goers dress up for the occasion and participate enthusiastically! The Nantucket Island Chamber of Commerce organizes a Daffy Hat Contest, a Children's Parade featuring decorated bikes, strollers, wagons, and other self-propelled vehicles, the Antique Car Parade, a window decorating contest, the famous Sconset Tailgate Picnic, a Family Picnic at Children's Beach, and more! The Pine Woods Morris Dancers often perform throughout the day at various locations.

May

Isn't the daffodil such a happy flower. If you've ever had an opportunity to spend a winter on the Cape you understand the daffodil is to a Cape Codder what the Olive branch was to Noah. More than 100,000 daffodils sway in a gentle breeze, re-affirming the notion that winter does come to an end and is replaced by spring and summer. Naturally there is celebrating. People sing, dance, shout, shed a tear of relief, golf and participate in a number of activities that are expressions of their excitement and gratitude. This all takes place the first weekend in May.

May

Cape Cod Maritime Days

Various Towns Throughout the Cape

☎: (508) 362-3828

www.ecapechamber.com/MaritimeDays

During the middle of May you have a rare opportunity to peak behind the scenes and see what it feels like to be inside the lighthouse looking out, to cloak yourself in the solitary existence of this revered protector of seafaring folk, to tour sea captains' homes, and to investigate the inner workings of a modern day coast guard station. The Cape's nautical history is expansive and fascinating. It tells the story of glory and hardship, of invention and legacy, of calm seas and natural disasters. It's a history of perseverance and passionate commitment. This event takes place mid-May, so step back in time by starting the season a little early.

September

Bird Carver's Festival

Cape Cod Museum of Natural History

Route 6A, Brewster, MA

☎: (508) 896-3867 ~ www.ccmnh.org

Typically held the third week in September this festival is put on each year to raise funds for the Museum. Come see decoys and miniatures – a decoy is a life size bird or duck carved of wood and used for hunting. A miniature is well – a small bird. These wooden beauties are gracefully painted with painstaking accuracy to trick live birds into co-mingling, and when they least expect it – well you get the picture, señora chickadee. Due to their artful execution they have become collector's items. Sure it starts innocently enough with one or two birds, but some people have whole rooms dedicated to their miniatures. Come see carving demonstrations and take a walk on the nature trail. If you're thinking of picking up the habit, we suggest a Sandpiper.
